

University of Gdańsk

University of Gdańsk, AquaLoop partner, is a dynamically developing public institution of higher education, largest in Pomerania region with over 30 000 students, academic staff of 1700 engaged in many disciplines, international consortia and international projects.

Within many departments the Department of Oceanography and Geography promotes research, demonstration and training in the field of aquaculture and bioeconomy, has competencies in the area, facilities including laboratory-scale recirculating aquaculture system, and has been involved in projects and study programs (INTERREG, EU FP, BONUS, Erasmus, and is a member of SUBMARINER Network.

University of Gdańsk with high research and education potential focusing on aquaculture and blue biotechnology, in charge of research and demonstration RAS facilities for pilots and promotion of innovative solutions, takes the role of a WP Lead of WP2: PilotLoops.

University of Gdańsk coordinates Pilot 1: TARAS – Testing Algae Applications in Recirculating aquaculture systems (RAS) to improve aquaculture circularity potential in the SB region

University of Gdańsk also takes the role of the Information manager.

Contact for WP2 - PilotLoops: hanna.ladkowska@ug.edu.pl

Contact for pilot 1: monika.normant@ug.edu.pl, joanna.hegele-drywa@ug.edu.pl, filip.pniewski@ug.edu.pl, marek.klin@ug.edu.pl

Contact for communication: b.dmochowska@ug.edu.pl

University of Gdańsk contact person: Hanna Ładkowska: hanna.ladkowska@ug.edu.pl